SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

All of us are born for a reason, but all of us don't discover why?

Success has nothing to do with what we gain in life or accomplish for ourselves. It is what we do for others, that concept inspires people every day to do better for others. Some are so passionate about helping individuals they decide to make a career out of it. We strongly believe that not every older adult or young child has the good fortune of having family members care for them. We are also aware that some face neglect and often, abuse from family members or those trusted to care for them. We feel that we can be an advocate for those older adults or children that are neglected or abused. We feel that the master's in social work program would give us the theoretical foundation as well as the intensive training that is necessary to become a good administrator in education field. We have served as a basis for growth and preparation for a life of helping others.

An earnest desire to provide an educational center of excellence to the children of Central Howrah and surroundings resulted in the opening of Gyan Bhavan Howrah School on 21st December, 2015. The school is promoted and managed by Gyan Bhavan Public Charitable Trust, known for its commitment for quality education, social welfare and upliftment.

Gyan Bhavan Howrah School is an autonomous, non-profit making, non-governmental organization devoted to the promotion of quality education, free medical check-up, food and nutrition guidance for the needy, downtrodden children of the society. Community service encourages every single member of the organization to understand the challenges faced by the less-privileged and sensitizes us to the importance of being compassionate.

We have our roots in the community. We are small, community-based organization seeking donor support to help ensure that as many under-privileged children and young people as possible have access to, and take advantage of a quality education which enriches their lives now and opens opportunities for their future. As a local organization we are in a uniquely credible situation to deliver local development services more effectively than outside organizations. We do not have an expensive administrative headquarters, our admin team here is very small and our overheads are minimal and thus we can maximize direct use of funds in schools and for children. Our donors can be sure that their contributions reach their target.

We aim to undertake our responsibilities with care, wisdom and love. We value and affirm children’s diverse ethnic backgrounds in our schools. The close relationship between our school and communities mean that we are able to respond sensitively and effectively to the particular needs of needy students- linguistically, socially and culturally.
